MORE ISLANDS
INVADED NEAR
PORT OF CEBUAMERICAN LANDINGS
OPEN BIG HARBOR
TO SHIPPING

BY CLYDE BARTEL

Associated Press War Editor

The invasion-menaced Ryukyu Islands were shelled and bombed for the seventh straight day Thursday by the U. S. Pacific Fleet, now joined by a powerful task force of the British Fleet, and Yank ground forces in the Philippines landed on two islands off the east coast of invaded Cebu to open Cebu's big harbor to shipping.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communications today told of the developments.

MacArthur's planes, coordinating with the British and American carrier aircraft strikes at the Ryukyus, pounded Formosa and its sea approaches, blasting a factory and an airfield and sinking six ships, one of 7,000 tons.

The Philippine landings were on nine-by-four mile Mactan Island and the tiny islet of Cauti.

In broadcasts unsubstantiated by American authorities, the Tokyo radio made the following claims:

1—Twenty to 30 reinforcement transports were attempting to supply Yank invasion forces in the Ryukyus.

2—Japanese surface units and aircraft sank or damaged 30 American warships between Monday and Wednesday.

3—Singapore was hit Thursday by 20 Superfortresses, presumably from India bases.

4—About 60 U. S. bombers and fighters attacked airfields and installations at Takao, Taichu and Tainan on the island of Formosa, which has been hit almost daily by Philippine-based American aircraft.

The navy at Washington headquarters announced the loss of a tank landing ship and a large support landing craft, as a result of enemy action in Philippine waters, making a total of 277 U. S. naval vessels of all types lost during the war.

Indications that the Japanese were driving closer to the American air base at Laohokow, 200 miles northwest of Hankow, China, were seen in a 14th Air Force communiqué report that its planes bombed the enemy only five miles northeast of the town.

Operators Reject
Perkins' Proposal
For Mine Workers

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins announced tonight after a series of conferences with John L. Lewis and the bituminous coal operators that the latter had rejected her last minute proposal for a new contract.

Lewis and the United Mine Workers had agreed to Miss Perkins' proposal which dropped Lewis' 10 cent a ton royalty demand, his major bargaining point. Miss Perkins said the case would be certified tonight directly to the War Labor Board, the initial step toward possible government seizure, such as followed the collapse of negotiations in 1943.

The secretary said the operators, after rejecting her proposed new contract to replace the one expiring Saturday at midnight, had also refused to agree on a plan for extending the current agreement for 30 days.

Solons Defeat Bill
To Bar Bribe-Taker
From State Office

Lansing, Mar. 29 (AP)—The house of representatives, after a stormy two-hour debate, today defeated a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to bar from public office forever any governmental official convicted of receiving or offering a bribe.

The resolution, however, was tabled and will be considered later. It lacked four votes of the two-thirds majority necessary to pass. The vote was 63 in favor of the resolution, 29 against it.

The vote followed party lines closely—of 63 years, 60 were from Republicans. Three Republicans joined the 26 Democrats who opposed the measure. Three Republican and four Democrat members were absent.

Vote on the anti-bribe bill, already approved by the senate, was delayed until next Wednesday, when backers felt they did not have enough strength to assure its passage.

The house passed and sent to the senate a bill to license practical nurses and increase qualifications of registered nurses.

With only one dissenting vote, the house approved a bill to provide for the development and regulation of aeronautics in the state, and creating a department of aeronautics. Another bill passed by the house and sent to the senate requires an inspection certificate from the state commissioner of agriculture before a kennel license is issued.

The senate passed a house bill designating the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day and a legal holiday, an echo of opposition to President Roosevelt's action in changing the time of the traditional observance.

LAKE VESSELS
SHORT OF HELPCargo Fleet Stands By
For Season Opening
Next Sunday

Detroit, March 29 (AP)—The Great Lakes' fleet of cargo vessels is standing by to weigh anchor for the opening, April 1, of the shipping season, the fourth of World War II.

The fleet's goal for the 1945 season, estimated by government agencies, was 83,000,000 gross tons of iron ore, 340,000,000 bushels of grain and 60,000,000 tons of coal.

Vessels have expressed considerable concern, however, that they anticipate problems which might deny their attaining those goals.

The chief hurdle facing ship-owners was the lack of manpower, aboard ships, at docks, in iron ore mines, in grain fields and elevators and in bituminous coal mines.

The senate war investigating committee, however, has assured vesselmen that the outlook for shipping on the Great Lakes has improved.

The committee stated military deferments had alleviated manpower shortages affecting inland waterways and railroads, but despite this assurance, shipping circles were skeptical that sufficient experienced hands would be available to man fully the Great Lakes fleet, totaling some 300 boats, and dock and storage facilities.

"The Great Lakes fleet will operate," one vesselman commented, "but it may be necessary to obtain permission to proceed with less than normal crews."

All Babies Leather
Shoes On Rationing;
Fabrics For Adults

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Beginning May 1, all babies' leather shoes will require a ration stamp.

The OPA made this announcement today, simultaneously with a disclosure by the Office of Civilian Requirements that it hopes to obtain the production of 150,000,000 pairs of high-quality fabric shoes with synthetic rubber soles for adults.

The OPA action puts babies' leather shoes, sizes 0 to 4 (worn by babies before they learn to walk) on the same basis as other leather shoes.

The idea, OPA explained, is to obtain greater production of larger-sized babies' shoes, already under rationing.

OPA predicted increased stocks of toddlers' sizes would become apparent within the next few months.

Only infants' leather shoes are affected by the action, booties and fabric shoes remaining coupon-free.

Kelly Tries To Hush Up
Fight On Aid To Cities

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—Governor Kelly sought today to put the lid on a boiling legislative controversy over the question of granting state financial aid to local governments.

In the senate, his aides said he would be willing to appear before a Republican caucus to explain his views on the question of new or increased taxes, while in the house the governor tried to keep a check rein on a bloc of urban Republican representatives who reportedly were threatening to line up with Democrats and force through their own state aid bill.

Kelly, in great detail, told news-men and legislators at separate conferences today his conception of how the problem should be handled. He proposed passing the state budget so that the state's fiscal needs can be determined first, then, granting any surplus existing to the cities; then, if additional taxes are necessary, revise the intangible tax; finally, if still more taxes are needed, pass a 10 per cent liquor tax.

Kelly angrily denied a charge by Rep. George N. Higgins, Ferndale Republican, that the governor or first encouraged him to secure senate approval of the liquor tax bill and then had ordered the house to stall it. He also went to great lengths to deny reports of a "coalition" between house Republicans and Democrats, or that any legislative bloc had demanded his support.

However, he said he objected to giving the liquor tax priority over the intangible tax revision, asserting the latter is so inequitable "no one says a good word for it."

He estimated that a surplus of between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 would exist in this year's fund to be used to assist local governments.

CIVIL SERVICE
RAISE BLOCKEDCommission Turns Down
40-Hour Week For
State Employees

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission today refused to place all state employees on a 40-hour work-week and to pay them time and a half for overtime activities.

At the same time it turned its face against a general pay raise for state employees in a session awaited by the legislature as it prepared the state's budget bills for the next biennium.

Asserting that the present wage schedule is reasonable, fair and just to both the taxpayer and the employees, Thomas J. Wilson, civil service director, said proponents of the shorter work-week have said they would work longer hours for premium pay. "On this basis," he said, "their proposal simmers down to a pure pay-raise device."

Wilson said the commission has reduced working hours in state employment from 66 and 68 hours to 40 and 48 hours since it began operations and has raised the average wage from $126.92 to $132.50, boosting payrolls a net of $3,500,000. State employees have secure tenure, pensions, opportunities for promotion, liberal sick leave and vacation allowances and other benefits which remove them from comparison with industrial workers, he said.

He warned that reckless pay raises would antagonize the public and might lead to damage to civil service, doing state workers more harm than they would gain in money.

FIGHTING REDS
CROSS BORDER
INTO AUSTRIAMAIN SUPPLY LINE
BETWEEN VIENNA
AND ITALY CUT

BY ROMNEY WHEELER

London, March 29 (AP)—Marshal Stalin announced tonight that rampaging Red army flying columns, streaking 20 miles across Hungary, had reached the Austrian frontier, and the free Austrian radio said the Russians already had invaded that gateway to Hitler's southern mountain fortress.

Tearing through shattered enemy defense lines and driving within 43 miles southeast of Vienna, Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's armored forces captured the border town of Koszeg, 52 miles south of the capital, and toppled the key Hungarian rail city of Szombathely.

Capture of Szombathely cut a main supply and communication line between Vienna and Italy and carried the Red army within 175 miles of the Italian border.

Pockets Cleared Out.

In a second order of the day, Marshal Stalin announced that Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky's Third White Russian army had completed the liquidation of the coastal pocket in East Prussia southwest of still-embattled Koenigsberg, killing and capturing 130,000 enemy troops in 18 days.

Radio Luxembourg, quoting Swedish dispatches, said a state of emergency had been declared in Vienna as an avalanche of Russian tanks, mobile guns and infantry swept toward the city. Vienna, the greater Reich's second city with a population of 1,930,000, is a big industrial center.

Supported by Soviet planes flying 5,000 sorties and blasting enemy strongholds ahead of the on-rushing Soviets, two Russian armies were plunging through broken enemy lines along both the north and south banks of the Danube.

Germans In Flight

On the Danube's north bank, Berlin said that the northern wing of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian army had lunged 17 to 25 miles west of the Iron river, reaching the banks of the Nitra river at points 47 to 52 miles east of Bratislava in a powerful new offensive.

On the Danube's south bank, Tolbukhin's army and the southern wing of Malinovsky's army group were forging attacks on Vienna through the Bratislava gap between Bratislava and the north shores of Neusiedler See (the Sea of Vienna) and had around the southern end of the lake.

Waves of Russian tanks, hurdling hastily-erected enemy defenses in pursuit of the retreating Germans, who nowhere showed signs of making a stand, were within 32 miles southeast of the great aircraft manufacturing city of Wiener Neustadt, south of the Austrian capital. Wiener Neustadt has been a frequent target of Italy-based American bombers.

Moscow dispatches said that one Red army aim of the end further German resistance in Italy, and the Russian advances followed recent conferences between Marshal Tolbukhin and Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in chief in the Mediterranean.

Mannheim Almost Gives In By Phone

Mannheim, Germany, March 29 (AP)—This city almost surrendered by telephone.

After the Americans occupied the northeast third of this one great inland port and artillery was blasting away at the main part of the city south of the Neckar river yesterday, the phone rang in a captured power station and a war-weary civilian asked that the shooting please be stopped because the German soldiers were all gone.

A skeptical American officer told the speaker to get the burgomaster to the telephone. The burgomaster came and declared over the wire that he was surrendering. Later he had to retract—by telephone.

Powerful British Warships Join In Attack On Ryukyus

Guam, Friday, March 30 (AP)

The United States Pacific Fleet, augmented by a powerful British battleship-carrier task force, poured shells and carrier planes for the seventh straight day Thursday at the Ryukyus where Tokyo said American transports are moving in for an invasion of Okinawa, 325 miles southwest of Japan.

Shortly after disclosing that the 35,000-ton battleship HMS King George V., the 23,000-ton carrier HMS Illustrious and other British warships attacked the southern end of the island chain Monday and Tuesday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today:

"The U. S. Pacific Fleet continued on March 29 to attack shore installations in the Ryukyus with carrier aircraft and with surface gunfire."

He also disclosed that Japanese planes and torpedo boats tried to deal blows to the attacking warships Tuesday night during which four of the planes and "a number" of the boats were destroyed. There was no mention of any damage to the American fleet units.

A self-contained task force of the British Pacific Fleet, including some of the mightiest war-ships afloat, teamed up with the U. S. Fleet for the first time in the central Pacific in carrier strikes against Japan's southern Ryukyu Islands Monday and Tuesday.

Observers here said the British force was using "revolutionary methods of operation" to carry out the first long-range strike it has ever attempted.

British carrier planes flying from "some of the most powerful ships in the British navy" blasted enemy airfield installations in the Sakashima group of Japan's Ryukyu Islands, which stretch along the southern approach to the mainland.

The attack indicated a marked change from previous methods of supply. Never before has the British fleet used a "floating supply train" on a scale large enough to permit such a long-range operation.

News that the British task force was cooperating with the American Fifth Fleet came as Tokyo reported that at least 300 carrier planes had pounded southern Japan for 10 hours yesterday. They concentrated on targets that included the Sasebo and Kure naval bases in what the enemy insisted "must be considered part of a strategic plan to support the Okinawa operation."

Japan has claimed for days that the Americans were preparing to invade Okinawa, largest of the Ryukyus.

The pair were arrested Wednesday by Stanley Boutin, head of the state conservation office in Muskegon county after a blaze destroyed several buildings and a sawmill there.

The fires covered more than 17,000 acres in six western and central Michigan counties, including 10,000 acres of the Manistee National Forest land in Lake county.

A blaze which threatened the village of Oscoda Wednesday was halted after several small buildings in the northwest corner of the community were destroyed.

H. R. Sayre, chief of field administration for the state conservation department, said incendiary fires in the Huron National Forest area which spread rapidly through scrubland and jackpines and ignited timberland across the Au Sable river Wednesday.

Republicans Block
Salary For Delano

Lansing, March 29 (AP)—Lacking the necessary two-thirds majority to declare a seat vacant, the senate Republicans today moved to prevent payment of salary to Senator Carl F. Delano, Kalamazoo Republican who has been convicted of accepting a bribe to influence his vote in the legislature.

Senator Don Vanderwerf, chairman of the Republican caucus, said the Republicans could not pass an ouster resolution in the face of a Democratic promise to buck it. The pay check attack is a substitute for that, he said.

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ulrich, was pronounced dead on admittance to the hospital.

Troops On Italian
Front Rained Out

Rome, March 29 (AP)—Troops along the Italian front remained locked in their months-old positions for another day as rain swept U. S. Fifth army lines and fog settled over the Apennine Mountains below Bologna today.

Even the Allied air forces were prevented by the weather from making their usual attacks on enemy targets in southern Europe. There were only a few clashes between opposing patrols, interspersed by artillery and mortar fire of varying intensity.

RUHR IS CUT OFF IN REAR
BY U. S. TANKSTHIRD ARMY HERDS
UP 14,000 NAZI
PRISONERS

By Austin Bealmear

Paris, Friday, March 30 (AP)—Tanks of the U. S. First army, scattering all resistance on a dazzling 55-mile sweep, roared up within 186 miles west of Berlin yesterday and all but cut the Ruhr basin from the rest of Germany, thereby robbing the enemy of his last great source of war material.

The British Second army raced across the north German plain under a news blackout, was at least 41 miles east of the Rhine by last account and was within 68 miles of a junction with the First army. Between the two armies were thousands of Germans in disordered flight.

Great Cities Topple

While the northern defenders of Berlin's approaches reeled under these tremendous blows, the U. S. Third army slashed almost half-way across Germany's waist with a 20-mile eastward surge that netted a total of 14,000 prisoners, a record for one day.

All Germany's great western cities, her last reliance in any long-drawn struggle, were toppling into Allied hands.

Already the Third army had Frankfurt, the Reich's ninth largest with a population of 546,000, the U. S. Ninth army had Duisburg, population 431,000 and Europe's biggest river port, almost in the bag, and the U. S. Seventh army captured Mannheim, population 283,000.

The Germans, realizing the enormity of the disasters in the west, wrote off as lost the entire Ruhr, with such manufacturing cities as Essen—greatest munitions maker of all Europe—Hamm, Dortmund, Dusseldorf and Muelheim.

Only Two Railways

The First army cut one of the most important railways from Essen to Berlin as well as a super-highway, leaving only two railways still open out of the Ruhr to the capital.

(Luxembourg radio said the British had entered the Westphalian capital of Muenster, cutting one of these railways. There was no confirmation, but hard-riding British tanks were only 17 miles away when the news blackout was clamped on.)

The U. S. First army reeled off the longest gain ever made in a single day on the western front, sweeping around the headwaters of the Ruhr River, and completely outflanking the vital production center.

Running roughshod through demoralized German defenses, the hard-hitting columns knifed to a point 10 miles south of Paderborn, 43 miles almost due east of the big

Need Bike License Here Before May 1

There are approximately 1,200 bicycle operators in Escanaba who have not yet obtained their 1945 license plates, which they must have to operate their bikes after May 1, Sgt. Phil Bruce of the Escanaba police department said yesterday.

So far 305 licenses have been sold. Last year 1,500 bicycles were licensed. Cost of the license is 25 cents.

Sgt. Bruce requested bike owners to bring their last year's title with them when making application for a new license. In this way considerable time is saved. If they do not have their titles they must wait until other applicants are served.

FIRE SETTERS GET WARNING

Must Have Permit Or Go To Court; Hazard Continues High

Persons who start fires without a permit are in for arrest and prosecution in court, where on conviction they are subject to fine or jail sentence, D. H. Raess, district supervisor of the conservation department, warned yesterday.

With a dozen or more small fires reported by towermen in the district yesterday, and the fire hazard continuing high, all fire permits starting yesterday were restricted to burning only after 5 p. m. for the day following a rain, Raess said.

Conditions in lower Michigan have been critical and a near state of emergency exists. The district office here has been advised to stand ready to send equipment there if the need arises.

Raess reported that available manpower for fighting fires is at its lowest ebb since the start of the war, and pointed to that as another reason why extreme care must be taken to prevent an outbreak. Towermen who went on duty yesterday for the first time this

MOTHER, OUR TEACHER SAYS HOME SANITATION IS IMPORTANT TO HEALTH PROTECTION!

SHE'S RIGHT, JANE... THAT'S WHY I USE CLOROX REGULARLY IN MY CLEANING!

MODERN scientific housekeeping methods go beyond ordinary cleansing for greater sanitation. In millions of homes Clorox cleansing provides an added protection against infectious germs commonly found in home "danger zones." The regular use of Clorox, always an important sanitary measure, is even more important today due to the growing shortage of civilian doctors and nurses. Clorox provides the type of disinfection recommended by health authorities. It is not only an efficient germicide, it deodorizes, removes stains, too.

Bathrooms! Germs can easily thrive in bathrooms. That's why it's such a good idea to make bathrooms sanitary by using Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs, toilet bowls; tile, enamel, linoleum and wood surfaces. Simply follow directions on label.

Only Three Townships Have Contests Monday

Opposition candidates will appear on the ballots in only three of Delta county's 14 townships in Monday's balloting, in which township officers will be elected for two-year terms for the first time in Michigan history. Previously the terms of office were for one year for supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

Keenest race is in Escanaba township where Supervisor John J. Sharkey, incumbent, is not a candidate for re-election. In that township two complete tickets are presented, with Frank Barron and Earl J. Paquin opposed for the office of supervisor.

In Wells township Supervisor O. J. Thorsen, candidate for re-election, is opposed by Vernon C. White, the only candidate on his ticket.

Fairbanks township also has a one-candidate ticket, with Henry E. Smith seeking the office of board of review on the Peoples Party ticket.

In all other townships there is no opposition, and all of the incumbent supervisors are candidates for re-election, as are most of the other township officers. The candidates for the various townships are as follows:

Masonville township—Joseph Casimir, supervisor; Hilda Johnson, clerk; Edna Young, treasurer; H. J. Wilford and Gerald Smith, justice of the peace; Carl Stenlund and Carl Vietzke, board of review.

RED CROSS AT $30,329 MARK

Leaves $7,570 Remainder Before Delta County Goal Is Reached

Delta county Red Cross War Fund contributions received up to yesterday totaled $30,329.48 and brought the county to within $7,570.52 of its $37,900 goal, it was reported by George Lindenthal, chairman of the Red Cross campaign committee.

The campaign is entering its final phase and unit chairmen again were asked to have all their contributions turned in by tomorrow, March 31, last day of the drive. If this is done, Delta county will be the second county in U. P. to complete its campaign. Marquette county finished first and met its quota.

From Bark River township it was reported by Mrs. A. E. Johnson, chairman, that the township had contributed a total of $1,233.90 to exceed its quota and that some collections were yet to be made in the Schaffer area. Bark River was the fourth township to report that it had gone above its assigned quota, it was reported by Joseph Ivans, general township chairman.

Workers of the Bark River township committee are: Bark River area—Miss Ida Urbane, Mrs. Gilbert Pearson, Mrs. Algot Erickson, Mrs. A. E. Anderson, Mrs. Helmer Bruce, Miss Noelle Derocher, H. W. Boyle, Mrs. William Kasbohm, Mrs. Harold McNaughton; Schaffer area—Mrs. George Pilon, Joseph Potvin, Edward Meyers and Ed Leonski.

At the Red Cross benefit card party last Saturday night, sponsored by the Delta Bridge League and the Escanaba Daily Press, proceeds totaled $226 and has been turned into the fund.

According to a report from Gladstone, Chairman Joseph E. Sturgeon, that city has contributed over $4,700 toward its $6,800 goal and success in the drive is anticipated.

Face Even Greater Job

THE dire trouble encountered by the Allied powers, in setting up some form of governmental authority in liberated countries, will assume the character of child's play as compared with the job of performing a similar service for the conquered people of Germany.
In the liberated countries there were at least some native citizens about whom semblance of local government could be established. In Germany, where hysterical hordes of homeless people are either milling about behind the retreating military lines or pleading for mercy in the ruins of their home communities, it is a most difficult job to separate the sheep from the goats and determine the particular Germans that can be trusted with local governmental authority.
And when such a German is found, he immediately becomes the target of the remnants of the dwindling, but still dangerous Nazi Gestapo. Only yesterday an inconspicuous news item told of the murder by three Gestapo parachutists of a 41-year old German who had been named as mayor of ruined and conquered Aachen.
Conquered German civilians offer a problem that is not provided in liberated countries. The bulk of German civilians are not at all sorry for the murder and rape of other countries by their military forces—they are sorry today only for themselves.
It would seem that the conquering nations, in addition to destroying Germany's military power, face the equally difficult task of setting up a workable government for the conquered peoples.

Fire Season Here

MORE than 17,000 acres were burned over by a forest fire near Oscoda in Lower Michigan this week, a fact that should be accepted as a warning that the fire season is close at hand in the Upper Peninsula.
The Forest Service and Michigan Conservation department are making extensive preparations for the prevention and suppression of woods fire this season. Observation towers will be manned within a few days, equipment is all in readiness, and keymen are being assigned to their respective areas.
But these agencies cannot do the job alone. The public must cooperate by closely observing the simple rules of fire prevention. These rules are:
Crush out your cigarette, cigar or pipe ashes.
Drown your camp fires; stir, then add more water.
Break your burned matches, then pinch them until the last spark is dead.
Find out about the law, and obtain a permit before burning brush, grass or debris.
Thirty per cent of all man-made fires are caused by careless or thoughtless smokers and campers, and 40 per cent are intentionally set for such purposes as clearing ploverland, burning off ferns, weeds, logging slash, brush or debris.
Wood is one of the most important war materials. During 1942, a total of 120,000,000 tons of wood were used as compared with an estimated 100,000,000 tons of steel. Carelessness with forest and wood fires might therefore be classed as sabotage of the nation's war effort.

Many Plants Imported

MANY plants now taken for granted as belonging to America are really immigrants. Navel oranges, for instance, come from Brazil, grapefruit indirectly from Asia, fungi-resistant hard wheats from Russia, alfalfa from central Asia, soybeans from China, elms from interior Asia, avocado from Central America, long-staple cotton from Egypt. There are many others. Some were Americanized by patient breeding. Similar experiment with native plants has developed many varieties now grown elsewhere. Hybrid corn is one of these.
The drug colchicine, old-fashioned gout cure, has lately been used to speed up plant evolution. Seeds treated with it produce plants twice the size of the parent. Seed of the offspring may also be treated, resulting sometimes in giants, sometimes in freaks.
Besides plants which have moved here, and those changed here, others, once found native, were taken to the Far East or Africa, and lately returned to this hemisphere. Rubber is one, quinine another.

Watch Your Tires

THE OPA, ODT and other governmental agencies are advising motorists to be extraordinarily kind to their tires this summer for the rubber situation continues to be critical.
Non-essential motorists, particularly, are warned they cannot expect new tires for many months. Not only is rubber scarce, as it has been much of the time since Pearl Harbor, there is a bottleneck in material for cord, and tire-makers cannot get enough good carbon black.

ODT has announced a 50 per cent cut in tires for essential commercial motor vehicles in the second quarter of this year. The quota of passenger car tires for distribution in April has been cut to 1,000,000, as compared with 1,600,000 in March.
The government is urging everybody whose tires are not in shape to get them re-capped at once. During the summer, tires wear out twice as fast as in cooler weather. Most tires now on the road are at least three years old and need to be handled carefully if they are to be kept going at all. There is, however, plenty of re-capping material right now, which will enable many motorists to keep riding, provided they observe war-time speeds and tire-care precautions.

BIG STUFF AT THE SOO

(Marquette Mining Journal)

The Soo city commission voted recently to explore the possibility that the city may be able to carry through a deal by which it will acquire the assets of the Edison-Sault Electric company. If the deal could be consummated it would be far and away the largest in which any city in the peninsula had ever figured. Estimates as to what would have to be paid for the property run from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The money would have to be provided by issuance of revenue bonds. The necessity of making provision for retirement of the bonds would stand, it is said, in the way of any reduction in rates now in effect. The owning company is entitled to earn six per cent on the value of its proved assets. To be on safe ground, the city, if it acquired the plant, would have to earn at least that amount on the purchase price.
The question whether the city will want to buy is an open one. The commission's decision to conduct a comprehensive inquiry is just what it appears on its face to be. The conclusions reached as a result of the inquiry might indicate that the deal would be, even if it could be carried through, too ambitious for the city, and public sentiment might be averse to commitment to it. But, however this may be, it is made clear at the outset that the company has no desire to sell. Its president has made an unqualified statement to this effect.
The company sells current derived, largely, from a government-owned plant in the St. Mary's rapids it operates under lease. It provides current for light and power used not only in the Soo, but also in St. Ignace, Mackinac Island. It is the most important corporation of its kind in the peninsula. If the Soo acquired it the Soo would be getting into the utility business in a big way.

Several peninsula cities and towns are in it profitably. Most of them buy current, and distribute it. Few, if any, of them are in it as greatly to their advantage as Marquette. But Marquette was not only a pioneer in municipal ownership, it was a pioneer in large scale community use of electricity. It got in on the ground floor, some 50 years ago.
For what it has paid a small price. Acquisition of corporation owned utility property at this late day has always to be based on the consideration that the state law permits of sound returns on sound values, and the charging of rates that make such returns possible. In consequence, if plants can be bought it must be expected that good round prices will be paid for them.
The bargain days in utilities passed a number of decades ago.
Uncle Sam says another liquor shortage may come. It will pick right up, no doubt, where the present one leaves off.

Well, girls, now is the time of year when spring starts breaking up our homes again. Our better halves bury their noses in the sporting pages at breakfast, and slop coffee on the tablecloth as they get agitated over the Dodgers' chances. They don't realize that it's going to take longer for that tablecloth to come back from the laundry than it will for the Dodgers to come back.
It's funny what spring does to men. They look so healthy and vigorous swinging those golf clubs and tennis rackets. But just hand them a broom or a carpet sweeper, and that forgotten knee injury suddenly flares up.
They can carry a heavy golf bag as far as ten miles, but they can't carry a wet sponge as far as a dirty window.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

A FINE POINT OF GRAMMAR
Q. My class and I would like to have a common-sense rule for use of the words "in" and "into." For instance, the radio just said, "American forces are back into Subic Bay." Can that be right?
A. This space will not permit a discussion of all the constructions in which "in" and "into" may be used. So let's consider the usages about which there is the most confusion.
IN. As a word of position or location. "In" indicates the place or situation where anything is.
INTO. This is a word of action or motion.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—On the basis of my own experience, I should say that political censorship of the news out of Western Europe is negligible. Occasionally it is invoked to protect the feelings of Allies in the war, but such instances seem to be rare.
In Eastern Europe the story is quite a different one. American correspondents have not been permitted into countries liberated by Soviet armies. Briefly they were allowed in Bucharest, but Soviet censorship there made it impossible to write more than obvious impressions.
In Yugoslavia, during a brief stay, I encountered a political censorship that was severe and at the same time exceedingly naive, having written two columns summing up surface impressions. I concluded by saying that it was clear that Marshall Tito still faced very grave problems.
—TITO WILL NEED TIME—
He is confronted with ancient racial hatreds, fanned by adroit Nazi propaganda aimed by setting Croat against Serb and Serb against Slovene. He must try to work toward the forms of Democracy in a part of the world where dictatorship has been the rule rather than the exception. Granting Tito the utmost good will, it seemed to me then, as it does now, that the outcome can be determined only with infinite patience and the passage of time.
I then took my copy to the censor. He proved to be a stocky powerfully-built officer of the Partisan Army. He remained standing while an assistant read in Serbian what I had written. From time to time he made notes on the back of a match box. When the reading was finished, he requested several minor changes of information which might have been remotely connected with military security, and those, of course, were made without question. Then, however, he announced that it would be necessary to strike out the discussion of Yugoslavia's future and any doubts as to whether it would become a Democracy.
"You don't understand," he said. "Field Marshal Alexander made a speech two nights ago and he said that we had a Democracy. Also he said he had achieved Slavic federation. So it must be true."
That kind of censorship grows out of insecurity. It is symptomatic of a new regime that is feeling its way uncertainly, improving in most government departments.

—RUMORS SPREAD DISTRICT—
The British, with at least our tactic acquiescence, have underwritten Tito. They saw no alternative except years of bloodshed and violence. Now that he has powerful backing and is free of the fear that the western powers might intervene, Tito should surely be able to relax some restrictions and, foremost among them, this naive censorship.
It is calculated, it seems to me, to engender suspicion and distrust where, with a free exchange of news, none need exist. That is true throughout Eastern Europe. A flood of rumors about conditions in Budapest is being dammed up behind the Russian refusal to allow anyone from the outside into that stricken city.
Conditions in Hungary's capital can hardly be more appalling than in Cologne or Frankfurt, where bombing and siege have done their worst. But in the absence of first-hand information, sinister reports are circulating about the horrors that exist in the streets of the once beautiful city on the Danube.
This, it seems to me, is a lesson which Russia must learn if any real understanding is to grow up between the partners in this war. The phrase, "Sphere of Influence," seems logical when the Soviet Union insists on maintaining barriers around the countries occupied by Soviet troops.
Correspondents of the Soviet News Agency Taas have the same opportunities to visit the Western Front as any other correspondent. A Taas correspondent in a Soviet officer's uniform has all the privileges of the hotel in Paris that is headquarters for the several hundred reporters covering the war from there.
The present policy of exclusion in Eastern Europe—and the restrictions are broad enough to cover U. S. officials as well as correspondents—seems of a piece with the shrill criticism that emanates from such Soviet journals as war and the working class. At Yalta the big three were reported to have discussed frankly this problem of free exchange of news. It would be good to see some tangible evidence of the changes agreed to at the end of those talks.

Let the symbol (in) represent the idea of simple static location or state of being enclosed or at rest.
Let a dash — represent the action or movement into — a place or situation.
These two symbols show us that a thing must first move into — a place before it can come to rest (in) a place.
Examples.
American forces are back (in) Subic Bay. (There is no action here, for the movement has been completed.)
American forces are moving into — stronger positions. (There is action here for "are moving" states that the motion has not yet terminated.)
The following sentences are correct: He is (in) the house. They are (in) distress. He sits (in) the sun. She is lying (in) bed. They live (in) New York. She works (in) an office. He is (in) the contracting business.
Bob fell into — the river. He is going into — the Army. The men went forward into — battle. The river flows into — the sea. Bring the chair into — the dining room. They ran into — the yard. He changed the bill into — small coins.

Joe demonstrated how it worked by pulling a lever that started the machinery, and then reaching out with one hand to pull the cord that brought the log into position for the saw.
It's more than a one-man mill, however. Besides the partners there is a small crew working at sawing the logs and then cutting the slabs into firewood lengths.
Incidentally, there seemed to be several acres around the mill covered with slab wood. Lots of it has been sold in the last one and one-half years but there is plenty left.
A few dozen cords of that slab wood in your back yard and you could tell John L. Lewis where to go—and both of you could keep warm.

STACKS OF LUMBER back of the mill invaded what had once been the farm orchard. Now the apple trees were surrounded by piles of lumber that gave off a fine aroma on this sunny afternoon.
There was white pine, beech, birch, ash and other woods, including some Norway pine that Joe said would eventually become boxes.
Some of the white pine seemed to be first grade (although old-timers in the lumber business might laugh) and without knots or other blemishes.
Joe had a special pile of lumber he was saving for himself. It was black cherry and butternut which he plans to use for cupboards and furniture. Both the cherry and the butternut have a beautiful grain and take a fine finish, he explained.
INDIAN TRAIL TREE—What we had come out to talk to Joe and Bert about was their discovery, some six or seven years ago, of Indian stone hatchets, flint ar-

CHANGING METHODS— Although there are still many large sawmills operating in the Upper Peninsula, the number of small sawmills, many of the portable type, are increasing as the years go by. Perhaps the time will come when the big mill will be a thing of the past.
One of several such small mills operating in the county is run by Joe Turan and his partner, Bert Proehl, a few miles north of Rapid River. The mill is not a portable kind and the boys have been enlarging it and making it more efficient in the year and a half they have been operating there.
Visiting there briefly one Sunday afternoon we found Joe and Bert hard at work repairing a tractor engine. It wasn't just a tune-up job, but a major operation. To anyone who didn't know what he was doing, there would have been a few parts left over later on.

PROUD OF IT—Their hands covered with grease, the boys excused themselves from shaking hands with a couple of city slickers whose mitts looked lily-white by comparison. Sunday or not, there was work to be done, but the partners took a few minutes to show off their sawmill, of which they are justly proud. Lots of people have farms, and some men even own stores of one kind or another, but it isn't often that a man finds himself the owner of a saw mill.

ALL ELECTRIC—The saw mill machinery is powered entirely by electricity. The carriage on which the log is shuttled back and forth during the visit of the company to the Deloit theater last week. H. K. Rammel, city editor of the Daily Press, is the author and the piece is a three-act business marriage comedy.

rowheads and copper spear points near their place.
From what they had to tell a spot was drawn directing us to the spot north of their saw mill and about three-quarters of a mile from the Whitefish river. The map included a pencil line bordering the road and the location of the Indian place which indicated an old Indian trail. There was also a spring below the hill.
The location was duly inspected but yielded nothing except fresh air and a walk in the sunlight. The spring was located—and on top of the hill near the roadway where the Indian trail was supposed to be there was found what, to all appearances, was an Indian trail tree. These are trees which the Indians bent over and fastened in an arch when the tree was young. This tree was perhaps 150 years old.

TRIBE OF NOQUET—The tree may have been bent as a marker by the Noquet Indians who once inhabited this section of the Upper Peninsula. Little is known of the Noquets, lending to the supposition they were generally peaceable and never made much history.
In letters by Father Brebeuf in the Jesuit Relations, the Noquet Indians are described as occupying the area from the head of Green Bay northward and along Lake Superior, where Munising is now located. The Whitefish river valley was probably their winter hunting grounds. On the east side of the river the old north-south Indian trail is still discernible in places.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago

A crowd of over 2500 persons jammed into the Coliseum last evening to attend the first annual smelt run jamboree program sponsored by the Wolverine Conservation association, with the cooperation of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, service clubs and civic organizations. After the program at the Coliseum, the scene shifted to the bridge across the Escanaba river at Wells and thousands of persons watched around fires and bonfires as Kingfish Long of Smetlana dipped his scepter which signalled the beginning of netting the slippery, silvery fish.
Washington, D. C.—Joseph Belanger and Ernest Durnin of Escanaba, included on the list of those to whom patents have been granted during the past week have not assigned their invention of manufacture, according to the weekly report of the United States Patent Office. Belanger and Durnin's invention is a conduit valve for paper pulp lines and the like.

HARVEY D. Gibson, the banker will return to this country in May, and will retire from his Red Cross post. Justice Ferdinand Pecora, Luigi Antonini and others will go to Washington this week to urge that an invitation be extended to Italy to attend the United Nations Conference. Lucien Currie of the White House staff came back from Switzerland last week with a plan for a money census. Its purpose is to locate every dollar that the war criminals have hidden in Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Argentina. Both Eleanor Roosevelt and Grace Coolidge have joined the organization known as Americans United.

HENRY J. Kaiser will try to raise a $250,000 fund with which to hold mass meetings in 5,000 towns throughout the country, and explain to the citizenry the significance of Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods. Richard Hottelet, the CBS correspondent, made his first parachute jump in Europe last week. He leaped from a burning plane and suffered only a black eye. An all star slate for Equity's Nominating Committee was defeated by a group of lesser lights last week. The losers, all liberals, were Franchot Tone, Fredric March, Victor Jory, Glenn Anders and Mady Christians. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida will make a one-man tour of the European fronts.

FRED Vinson's speech at the dinner for Justice Hugo Black in Washington on April 3—the dinner sponsored by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare—will pledge that all the powers of the RFC and its plant-disposing agencies will be used to industrialize the south, as a furtherance of the Jobs-For-60 Million program. The War Department will publish and distribute to every family of a returning veteran a book called "When He Comes Home." It will contain suggestions as to their treatment of and behavior towards the veteran. Sholem Asch's new book will be a story of life in N. Y. C. The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. R. S. Allen now on active service.)
Washington—It has now been over a year since this column exposed army tardiness in ordering the quick-release parachute, but unfortunately the old-fashioned triple-release harness is still dragging some victims to death.
Latest tragedy, was Lieut. Joseph H. Burton Jr., of Los Angeles, drowned in the Warlock River, Virginia, after he was unable to unbuckle his parachute. The body, when found last week, showed that Lieutenant Burton had been able to unfasten one buckle, but not the other two. The parachute was wrapped around his legs and had dragged him under the water.
The quick-release parachute features a little metal box worn on the chest, permitting the parachutist to get out of his harness in ten seconds, instead of laboriously unfastening three buckles under the thighs and over the shoulder. Though the army at first denied statements in this column that quick-releases are necessary, they have now been ordered. But production has been slow, and men on the home front are not yet sufficiently equipped.

—BREITON WOODS VETO—
Despite the overwhelming vote of the people last November for international cooperation, a majority of the House Banking and Currency Committee is preparing to report unfavorably on the Bretton Woods agreement—first test of the willingness of Congress to participate in international organizations.
There has been overwhelming support of Bretton Woods from church, labor and business groups, but the 12 Republicans on the committee and two Democrats are ready to vote against the agreement as it now stands. The Democrats are Barry of New York and Baldwin of Maryland.
Lobbying against Bretton Woods has been conducted by the top layer of the American Bankers Association—which wants bankers free to make both long and short term loans abroad without any government control. The attack has been leveled against the stabilization fund, without which the international bank would be largely futile.

The committee majority will probably not vote against the entire agreement, voting instead to tag on various amendments which will necessitate another international conference. Treasury and state department officials are doubtful if, once we have rejected the Bretton Woods proposal another agreement can be worked out.
—ROOSEVELT AND AL SMITH—
It was the late Al Smith who more than anyone else persuaded Franklin Roosevelt, then discouraged by his physical setback, to run for governor of New York in 1928. The race gave FDR his real start toward the presidency. Later Smith was bitterly critical of Roosevelt's domestic issues, but with the war they became more friendly. And when Al died last October, Roosevelt paid him a great tribute in his Boston speech.
Today a modern housing project is being built near Oliver street, the humble East Side district where Al Smith was reared. And to commemorate the man who came out of the slums to be governor of New York, a committee is raising money to build a plaza in the center of the housing project. It will contain a fountain and a plaque to the memory of Alfred E. Smith.
When the fund-raising committee wrote President and Mrs. Roosevelt, asking for a contribution, a check for $10 came back from war-busy Franklin Roosevelt with no letter; another check for $10 from Eleanor Roosevelt with no letter.
From Tom Dewey came a check for $50 with a beautiful letter.

—UNRRA CONFIRMS
This column recently told how a British Colonel, posing as an UNRRA worker in Greece, had been found with receipts showing British payments to Greek right-wing factions to encourage them to fight the Greek left wing. Simultaneously, the British information service issued a denial.
Later in the day, however, Reuters, the British News Service, telephoned the UNRRA Public Relations Office and asked for comment on the story.
"What comment?" asked the UNRRA representative.
"You're going to deny it, aren't you?" said Reuters.
"No," replied UNRRA. "The story's true."
—CAPITAL CHAFF—
Although Representative Albert Carter, California, lost out last year to George P. Miller, Carter is drawing $3,000 per year plus overtime on the congressional payroll of Representative Al Elliott. Carter is a Republican, but is being paid by a Democrat—Mary Ellen Smith draws $3,735 per year on the payroll of her stepfather, loud-mouthed Representative Paul Stewart, Democrat of Antlers, Oklahoma, but Miss Smith puts in the major part of her time as a student at George Washington University—The senate small business committee is preparing to investigate monopolistic control of the movies. Sparking the move is committee counsel Dewey Anderson, who ripped the movies apart several years ago when on the temporary national economic council—movie producers—on short rations of raw film—were furious to learn last week that the army has turned over for disposal as surplus property 15 million feet of unused movie film. What burns them up especially is that the army held the film until it was out of date and much of it will probably be useless—Senator Glen Taylor, Idaho's singing cowboy, is turning out to be an excellent addition to the senate. Besides being a forward looking legislator, Taylor is one of the few members whose voices can be heard throughout the chamber and the galleries.

It's about time to discover that we're lucky to have lived through the winter in such a dirty house.

START GARBAGE PICKUP MONDAY

Service Begins Early; Collection Rules Are Announced

The regular weekly collections of garbage in Escanaba will start Monday, it was announced yesterday by City Manager A. V. Aronson. Because of the early season the collections this year are starting about two weeks earlier than last year.

While the schedule of collections may be interrupted for a time until the service is well established, it is planned to collect garbage once each week in the residential area and twice weekly from certain business places along Ludington street, the city manager said. These places include hotels, restaurants, butcher shops and other establishments where garbage accumulates rapidly.

Cooperation of the citizens is asked by the city to facilitate the collection service. The following regulations must be complied with:

- 1—All garbage cans must be located within 10 feet of the alley line except at those places where there is no alley. Then the can should be located as conveniently as possible for the pick-up of garbage.
- 2—All garbage cans must have handles, covers, and must not be more than 30 gallons capacity.
- 3—All garbage must be wrapped in paper. The cans must be rinsed once each week. The city advises that if the cans are placed on raised platforms they will last

STORES CLOSE NOON TO 3 P. M.

Escanaba stores will be closed from 12 noon to 3 p. m. today in keeping with the annual custom to permit employees to attend Good Friday church services.

Banks will be closed this afternoon. The public library, courthouse and city hall also will observe the 12 to 3 closing.

All postoffice business will be suspended during the three-hour period.

Naval estimates are that 5,000 beachings by landing craft are required to put 250,000 men on a hostile shore.

Firemen Will Help In Burning Grass

Persons wishing to burn grass in an area where there is danger of nearby buildings being ignited may call the fire department and a truck and men will be dispatched to watch the blaze and guard against damage to buildings or property. City Manager H. J. Henricks stated yesterday.

He urges that the department be called before setting the grass afire and then the firemen can determine the best manner of burning and supervise the operation.

Tourist Folders Well Distributed In Chicago

In spite of the setback given publicity of summer tourist advantages of Schoolcraft county caused by the ODT ruling closing the Outdoor Show at Chicago, and other sportsmen's shows, folders publicizing Schoolcraft county's advantages as a vacationland have been well advertised.

Fred Heltman, president of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of that organization Tuesday evening, reported that he had distributed much advertising literature at advantageous places—principally large hotels, bus depots and department stores and advertising firms when he was in Chicago last week.

Another important item of business taken up at the meeting was the order that the Chamber of Commerce communicate immediately with State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler asking information concerning plans for improvement of this season of Highway M-94.

Joseph Heltman appointed as chairman of the Annual Farmer-Merchant Supper to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and held the latter part of August. It was suggested that the plan this year include the farmers, their wives, and 4-H club members.

Russell Watson and O. J. Schuster were appointed to head the committee to be formed to investigate the recreational facilities for the children of Manistique. This committee would include representatives of the Rotary club, Lions club, Manistique Women's club, Youth Council, Lincoln and Lakeside-Central P. T. A.'s.

Cpl. Peake entered the service in September 1943 and has been overseas about a year. This is the second time that he has been injured, the first time was last July while serving in France.

His wife and two children reside with his parents in Detroit.

Businesses Close For Good Friday

In deference to a custom which has prevailed through the years in Manistique, places of business in general throughout the city will be closed this afternoon between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock.

While this matter of closing is not, in any sense, due to official decrees of any sort, the matter of closing has, in the past been generally understood and accepted that the custom has prevailed in the past and will today.

Tramway Bridge Section Washed Out Tuesday P. M.

The tramway bridge below the paper mill was washed out Wednesday night.

Accumulation of dead trees and other debris washed down against the frail structure created a dam which gave way about 8 o'clock, shortly after two pedestrians had crossed it.

The washed out section spans the second channel from the east, about 20 feet being washed away. The rest of the long winding structure is intact.

This bridge is much used by employees of the many industrial plants on the West Side, serving as a short cut to and from their homes.

The bridge will be rebuilt.

SOO FIRM BUYS BARKER BAKERY

The deal was closed Wednesday whereby the Barker Bakery, operated here since 1942, becomes the property of the Retailers' Wholesale Bakery of Sault Ste. Marie.

The new owners will take charge of the business the first of the coming week and operate the local establishment as a subsidiary of the firm. According to their announcement operations here will be given over entirely to the manufacture of cake and pastry. Manistique will also be a distributing center for the firm in this territory. The local branch will handle no retail sales, all goods being handled through local stores.

The Retailers' Wholesale Bakery is one of the largest baking firms in the Upper Peninsula. It employs about 45 people and distributes its product over a wide area. Stock in the firm is held exclusively by grocery people.

William Barker, who retires from the business, states that he is giving up the business because he needs a rest. He has been working at the business steadily ever since he started to learn the trade in 1912. Troubled with arthritis and beset with a shortage of help and current war time restrictions, his task has been about all his health will permit, he says. He has, he states, enjoyed a good patronage in the many years he has operated here.

TO HOLD UNION SERVICE TODAY

Protestant Churches To Observe Solemn Hour At Methodist Church

In the First Methodist church beginning at 1 o'clock five Protestant churches will unite in a two hour Good Friday service. The five participating churches are: Presbyterian, Free Methodist, First Methodist, Bethel Baptist, and First Baptist. Each church will be represented by its pastor and each church will supply special music.

This service will be divided into four one-half hour services. The service for the half hour will be complete in itself, so that one may come and go when he pleases. It is hoped however by members of the Ministerial association that many will plan to stay for the entire service, from 1 to 3 o'clock.

The Ministerial association has centered the entire service about the words of God, "This Is My Beloved Son."

The first half hour, the music will be furnished by the First Methodist church, and the Rev. Ben Wyma will be the preacher. His subject will be, "This Is My Beloved Son, In the Garden."

The second half hour service music will be given by the Bethel Baptist Girls' Octet and the sermon, on the subject, "This Is My Beloved Son, Before Pilate," will be preached by the Rev. Harold Martinson.

The third service will begin at 2 o'clock. The special music will be given by the Presbyterian church. The Rev. William Harvey will speak upon the subject, "This Is My Beloved Son, On the Way."

The fourth and concluding half hour service will begin at 2:30 o'clock. The subject of the Rev. William Harrington will be, "This Is My Beloved Son, On the Cross." The music will be furnished by the senior choir of the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Meldon Crawford will be the general chairman for all of the services.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your system. Get Doan's Pills.

TO HOLD UNION SERVICE TODAY

Protestant Churches To Observe Solemn Hour At Methodist Church

In the First Methodist church beginning at 1 o'clock five Protestant churches will unite in a two hour Good Friday service. The five participating churches are: Presbyterian, Free Methodist, First Methodist, Bethel Baptist, and First Baptist. Each church will be represented by its pastor and each church will supply special music.

This service will be divided into four one-half hour services. The service for the half hour will be complete in itself, so that one may come and go when he pleases. It is hoped however by members of the Ministerial association that many will plan to stay for the entire service, from 1 to 3 o'clock.

The Ministerial association has centered the entire service about the words of God, "This Is My Beloved Son."

The first half hour, the music will be furnished by the First Methodist church, and the Rev. Ben Wyma will be the preacher. His subject will be, "This Is My Beloved Son, In the Garden."

The second half hour service music will be given by the Bethel Baptist Girls' Octet and the sermon, on the subject, "This Is My Beloved Son, Before Pilate," will be preached by the Rev. Harold Martinson.

The third service will begin at 2 o'clock. The special music will be given by the Presbyterian church. The Rev. William Harvey will speak upon the subject, "This Is My Beloved Son, On the Way."

The fourth and concluding half hour service will begin at 2:30 o'clock. The subject of the Rev. William Harrington will be, "This Is My Beloved Son, On the Cross." The music will be furnished by the senior choir of the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Meldon Crawford will be the general chairman for all of the services.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your system. Get Doan's Pills.

NO EXCESS FAT ON TIGER STARS

York Slices 19 Pounds Off His 1944 Weight; Boys In Pink

BY FRANK KENESSON
Evansville, Ind., March 29 (AP)—The baseball player who reports for spring training without having to take off weight to get into shape is way ahead of the field. Manager Steve O'Neill told his Detroit Tigers at their Evansville camp today.

The subject was Rudy York, belting first baseman, who reported three days ago from his Georgia farm home weighing exactly 190 pounds under his playing weight of 209 pounds in 1944.

The streamlined Rudy entered into his first 1945 workout with the zest of a rookie and came out of a hard drill feeling fit as a fiddle. Proof that he doesn't need all that bulk to maintain his power hitting was provided in his second trip to the batter's box in hitting practice.

Rudy, at 190 pounds and with his clothes flapping on his trim frame like rags on a scarecrow, watched four pitches before he belted the next one over the brick wall in left field. The next swing sent the ball rattling off the fence in the same sector.

York, after a hard winter's work on his Cartersville, Ga., farm, was ready for a slugging good season. Another case of expert conditioning is 39-year-old Roger (Doc) Cramer, the "Mr. Graceful" of Detroit's center field. A carpenter in Manahawkin, N. J., in the off-season, Cramer reported in last week at 186 pounds, a bare pound over the weight at which he broke into the major leagues 15 years ago. Cramer is eternally in first class condition.

Second Baseman Eddie Mayo is another who never has to work off winter fat; Third Baseman Don Ross came in at his 1944 weight but looked considerably sleeker. Shortstop Joe Hoover, now a candidate for third base, is 10 pounds under the 185 at which he came to the Tigers last year one day before the American League race opened.

Hal Newhouser, who overpitched himself to a string bean weight of 157 late last season, gained 12 pounds in his first week of this year's camp, reporting at 170 and building himself to his normal pitching weight of 182 on a steady diet of regular work and regular meals.

Actually, the only man on the Detroit squad who really faced the necessity of working off winter avoirdupois was Steve O'Neill himself. Steve reached here weighing 247, but shaved nine pounds off that figure in as many days.

Trim is the word for the Detroit Tigers of 1945.

Coast Has Diamond Opens Saturday

Los Angeles, March 29 (AP)—As usual, the Pacific Coast League will be the first to break the baseball barrier.

The opening Saturday will be watched closely throughout the country, because as the initial starter the league will serve as a test tube for another year of wartime baseball.

Last season combined two extremes, players in their forties and others in their teens. The result was surprisingly good baseball.

Aggies Mythical Basketball Champs

New York, March 29 (AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies, N.C.A.A. champions, won the National mythical basketball championship tonight, defeating DePaul of Chicago, the invitation tournament winners, 52 to 44, in a benefit game at Madison Square Garden that turned more than $50,000 over to the Red Cross.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Pete Gray, the Brownies one-armed outfielder, has been living up to advance expectations in exhibition games this spring. In his first game with the Brownies against Toledo, Gray failed to get a hit but in each of the next two games he batted out three hits and has been maintaining a fast pace ever since. He is not a power hitter but slaps out a lot of Texas leaguers and uses his speed to beat out many infield bunts. He also has been doing a grand job defensively. He's a great crowd magnet, too, and the Brownies feel that he'll stick in the big show.

John J. McHale, former Notre Dame athlete, is regarded as the most likely successor to Dick Wakefield in the left field post in the Tiger lineup. McHale is a close friend of Wakefield and has the best wishes of last year's Tiger star. McHale is six feet city of Hamm, rear door of the Ruhr. They apparently were across the Ruhr-Berlin superhighway.

RUHR IS CUT OFF IN REAR BY U. S. TANKS

Third Makes Lunge
This put them but 67 miles southwest of Hannover, and well out in front of the onrushing British Second army, which was driving straight east across the Westphalian plain and last was reported about 68 miles from a junction with the First army.

Simultaneously, the U. S. Third army lunged out 20 miles east across the mid-German plain, herding the disorganized enemy before it and rounding up 14,000 prisoners.

At last reports it was within 198 miles of Berlin, but the German radio said the Third army's Fourth armored division had driven at least 12 miles farther on and was within less than 100 miles of the border of Czechoslovakia.

The Third army captured Frankfurt on the Main, Germany's ninth largest city with a normal population of 546,000, and 45 miles to the southwest the U. S. Seventh army seized Mannheim, Rhine factory city of 283,000.

While the U. S. First army wheeled abruptly north, and the British Second army—with American infantry riding its tanks—roared up from the west, German broadcasts wrote off the once rich Ruhr, greatest of the enemy arsenals.

Field Of Rubble
The Ruhr, said one enemy war correspondent, was "nothing but one wide field of rubble in which the army and the Volksturm fight side by side with nothing to lose but their lives."

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead declared in a dispatch from the field that the point near Paderborn was reached at 5:35 p. m. (European time) and Germany was rolling on with nothing in front to hold it.

German resistance collapsed in front of this powerful sweep by the one British and two American armies, and a field dispatch said the situation had become a rout in front of the U. S. First army.

At the current rate of advance, the British and the U. S. First armies might come together in the Westphalian plain in little more than two days, laying open the road to Berlin and cutting off all the big factory cities of the Ruhr.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army tank columns speared through Langwiesche, 49 miles southeast of Hamm, eastern exit of the Ruhr, and 68 miles southeast of Haltern, which was overwhelmed by British Second army tanks and the American infantry astride them.

Shift Surprises Enemy
Other First army columns reached nearby Hallenberg and Frankenberg—the latter 200 miles southwest of the western limits of Berlin.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army, which had been moving north earlier in the day, suddenly turned east and spurred 20 miles across the Frankfurt plain almost unopposed, entering Lauterbach, 198 miles from Berlin.

The British breakthrough on the Westphalian plain was scattering before it German troops who were trying to get away in any vehicle available.

Veterans of North Africa, loose in good tank country once more, were imperiling Muenster, Osnabrueck and Hannover—the latter 142 miles west of Berlin.

The U. S. Ninth army on the British south flank charged ahead six miles through the Ruhr under another security blackout and was reported to be in almost complete possession of Duisburg, Europe's greatest inland river port, after capturing the dock area.

The U. S. Seventh army on the southern end of the front had crossed the river Main on an eight mile front just south of the Third army front, and was threatening to outflank the Black Forest, most formidable sector of the Siegfried line, with a push along the Neckar River.

The U. S. First army was driving ahead so rapidly that at one point tanks actually overran an airfield near Langwiesche and shot up eight planes before the startled pilots could get them in the air.

At another point they caught up with a train and turned their guns upon it.

Just north of Muenchausen, 30 SS (Elite) troops tried to throw up a road block and were scattered like feathers, a front dispatch said.

The First army was traveling under an involuntary blackout. Spearheads were thrusting forward so swiftly that communications could not keep pace.

Some First infantry division troops moving up behind the flying columns captured German troops who said they had left Duesseldorf eight days ago to try to stop the drive, but between the snarled communications and air attacks they had been able to move only 40 miles in all that time.

"There is not the slightest doubt by anyone watching this great armored march and getting reports of advances from other fronts that this is the day of reckoning for the Nazi military and political machines," AP Front Correspondent Don Whitehead said.

Evansville, Ind., March 29 (AP)—Rain today washed out the second Detroit Tiger workout in 16 days of spring training camp.

Only previous cancellation was 10 days ago, before arrival of the infielders and outfielders.

Fewer than a half dozen men were in uniform this afternoon when a downpour chased them back to their hotel and the drill was called off. The next squad game has been set for Saturday with nine innings planned.

BASEBALL

Atlantic City, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Home runs by Bob Johnson and Nick Polly helped the Boston Red Sox defeat the New York Yankees 12 to 6 today in the first of nine exhibition games between the two teams.

A crowd of 2,616 paid plus 1500 wounded soldiers admitted free witnessed the game.

Rex Cecil blanked the Yankees with two hits in the first five innings, with Francis (Red) Barrett yielding all the Yankee runs in the four he worked.

The Red Sox banged Walter Dubiel, Floyd Bevens and Allen Gettel for 16 hits, Center Fielder Leon Culberson having a perfect day with four hits and a walk.

Frederick, Md., March 29 (AP)—Two outfielders, Charlie Metro and Harold Peck, left the Philadelphia Athletics' camp today to take pre-induction physical examinations at Philadelphia.

Wilmington, Del., March 29 (AP)—Gus Mancuso, former New York Giant catcher, has arrived in the Philadelphia Phillies training camp.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 29 (AP)—Rain cut the Chicago White Sox' squad workout to a half hour under the grandstand, with the pitching staff doing a lot of throwing. Manager Jimmy Dykes said his pitching staff looked in good shape, especially the veteran Thorton Lee. Dykes, however, wouldn't object to seeing his two holdout hurlers in camp—Johnny Humphries and Orval Grove.

French Lick, Ind., March 29 (AP)—Charles Grimm's Chicago Cubs held a morning workout today when showers forced the squad to forsake the regular diamond for the depot grounds. Jimmy Wilson, former Cubs manager, now a Cincinnati Red, visited Grimm to complete arrangements for the party of 42 Red players due to arrive here Monday.

LOST BALL BAD ITEM THIS YEAR

BY BUS HAM

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Don't lose any balls out in the brush this season, brother, or you may not be able to play another day—the wartime athletic equipment shortage is becoming that acute.

The Office of Civilian Requirements today made this disclosure, and admonished:

"Sports-loving Americans who want to go on getting their exercise in athletics ought to start digging into their attics and basements for balls, bats and such equipment."

Any item made of critical materials like leather, wood, textile or rubber is rapidly disappearing from the shelves and stock rooms of sporting goods dealers.

Schools, athletic groups and some members of congress are disturbed about this shortage, and have asked the OCR if anything can be done about the situation.

The only answer is for civilians to scrape up equipment that has been tossed aside, the OCR said, since little or no relief can be expected from the government due to heavy demands by the military.

Civil Air Patrol Plans New Class Starting April 22

A new class of the local flight of the Civil Air Patrol is to be organized next month and applications will shortly be available for those interested in enrolling. It was announced yesterday by Lt. Fred Sensiba, local flight commander. The organization meeting is scheduled for April 22 at the Escanaba junior high school. The present class meets each Thursday at the junior high school and receives pre-flight instruction in various phases of flying, military drill, courtesy and discipline. This month the Civil Air Patrol is starting its fourth year of activity as a civilian organization contributing directly to the war effort. Organized just prior to Pearl Harbor by private flyers who volunteered their services and equipment, attention of the CAP is now directed toward advancing the war effort in other lines of endeavor. Civil Air Patrol affords the young man and woman 15 to 18 years of age the opportunity to receive valuable aid in military training covering military regulations, procedure, courtesy and discipline.

General H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, has commended CAP cadet training as "our best guarantee not only of leadership in the air but our very existence as a sovereign nation."

Married 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders, 113 South Fifth street, have reached their silver wedding anniversary. They were married on March 30, 1920, and that same year Mr. Saunders entered the employ of the C. & N. W. railway, so that he will be rounding out 25 years of service with the railroad on May 11. He is in the store department. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders have one daughter at home, Eleanore Patricia.

Miss Mary Margaret Welch, 709 Fifth avenue south, returned last night from a visit in Chicago.

Prohibit Burning—Escanaba city ordinance prohibits the burning of leaves, grass or other refuse on any portion of a paved or other hard surfaced street, the police department warned yesterday. Several persons have already been warned against the practice, which weakens the pavement and causes it to crumble.
